CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent).
CANTON, April 18.

The Director of the Canton mint has petitioned the Viceroy to replenish the stock of copper at the mint. He suggests that it be ordered from America and Japan. The use of the copper coin is yearly increasing in Canton and the "cash" is not nearly so much in favour as formerly. Hence the request for more copper.

KIDNAPING SCHOOL CHILDREN.

In the locality known as Kam Lin a teacher named Yok opened a private school. He had several pupils and his own two sons were among the students. Ten of the pupils and the two sons were lately captured by a band of brigands and the lady held to ransom. One of the sons was shortly afterwards shot to hasten the arrival of the expected ransom.

One of the sons succeeded in making his escape and has reported that the robbers are living in a large cave in the vicinity of Shek Nam Yeh. In this cave the lad states are large numbers of brigands together with many prisoners and much that has been looted from neighbouring farms.

MURDER IN A CONVENT.

A certain Wong Chung is a congee seller. Being very poor and having several children dependent on him he sold one of his daughters to a Buddhist Convent near Fat Shau where she was to be trained to become a nun. Some time ago he borrowed a sum of money from a friend. The friend in course of time came to demand repayment. Wong said he had no money at the time but could probably get some from the Convent. They went in company to the place and the congee seller asked for a loan of $10. The abbess for him gave $3 and invited the two men to partake of a meal. While eating Wong was advised to go his way and not trouble the convent any further. The congee seller became very angry, seized a large knife and dangerously wounded one of the nuns on the head. The alarm was at once raised but the enraged Wong ran "amok" among the terrified women and wounded no less than eight of them. He then made off but during the night three of the unfortunate nuns died. Next day, on the affair being reported, the Magistrate sent an official to investigate the case and, as a result, Wong has been arrested to stand his trial for murder.

WHOLESALE PLUNDERING.

A very daring case of wholesale looting has just happened in a village called Loong Keng. This village is inhabited almost entirely by members of the Fung clan. A large number of armed robbers entered the village a few days ago and made a clean sweep of everything of value in the place leaving sorrow and desolation behind them. They moved on to another village where they repeated the performance. Such is the indignation and terror which these bandits have inspired that it is said that the chief of the country gentry have gone to Canton to personally solicit adequate protection.

THE SANCTUARY'S FAMILIES.

The newly appointed Tartar General has observed that the descendants of the "Eight Banners" family are increasing in number and that they are not in comfortable circumstances, the pension devoted to this family being limited. He has ordered the circumstances of these people to be investigated. He has also ordered a list of their names to be drawn up, paying particular attention to the youths between 10 and 20 years of age.

A HAPPY FATHER.

A certain lady living at Fatahan has achieved notoriety by presenting her husband with triplets (sons). The proud father has been seen patrolling the streets of Fatahan with his offspring, visiting his numerous friends to receive their congratulations.

NAVAL DEFENCE IN THE FAR EAST.

SIR N. BOWDEN SMITH, K.C.B., speaking at the annual meeting of the Fellows of the Royal Colonial Institute, in London, recently said:—"With regard to the Navy we are committed to the two-Power standard, and from the pledges given by both political parties we may hope the standard will be maintained. We can hardly hope for a higher standard because I do not know how any Chancellor of the Exchequer could possibly find the means, but I would remind you that in consequence of the largely increasing armaments of some of our continental neighbours we have been obliged to recall a great many of our ships from foreign seas and concentrate them in Home waters, for the heart of the Empire must be protected. But as a result of that concentration, at the present moment in Eastern waters we have no battleship and only four armoured cruisers, whereas Japan has a powerful navy and large land forces.

It ought, therefore, to be well understood that neither Australia nor New Zealand could expect to get any substantial assistance from this country in case they were attacked by a squadron of armour-clad vessels, because in the first place under present conditions, considering the extreme weakness of our land forces, they could not be spared, and secondly it would take too long for vessels to get out there in sufficient time to avert a disaster. I think this concentration of the fleet in Home waters, though absolutely necessary under existing conditions, should be seriously considered by the British people. It is a bad thing for the Navy and a bad thing for the Empire that our fleet should be tied to our shores in the way it is at present. I do not think our people realise that sufficiently, and they should insist on our keeping up a real territorial army ready to be mobilised at short notice, so that although we must always keep a big fleet in home waters, some at all events of our ships, should be free than they are at present to do their duty in any part of the high seas where their services may be required."

Big as the British fleet is the British Empire is undoubtedly bigger still, and it is therefore impossible for all quarters to be served alike. As Admiral BOWEN

Smith remarks "the heart of the Empire" must be protected, yet this surely could be accomplished without leaving the limbs unduly exposed. For, when all is said and done, we imagine that the Admiralty could make a better distribution of the Fleet than is at present attempted. British prestige in this region of the world suffered a very serious eclipse when we withdrew our battleships from the China station in the immediate sequel of the battle of Tsushima, but we imagine that there are plenty of men at Home now who, if they brought their influence to bear, could have this mistake remedied if they set their minds on it. Prestige, we fully understand, is a peculiarly intangible asset, but it is an asset all the same and with such a widening empire as ours, with its ever increasing responsibilities and anxieties it is something we cannot afford to lose. When the Dreadnoughts contemplated by the present scheme are in the water, we hope that the Admiralty will see their way to sending back some of the smaller battleships to this station. That alone will enable us to recover some of the losses which the present economic and strategic policy has involved. As for the self-governing Colonies we think that their needs also should have ampler consideration, especially in view of the very substantial help which they are ready to afford the Mother Country at the present moment. If Great Britain accepts that help she must be prepared to shoulder the responsibilities which the acceptance of the Colonial Dreadnoughts inevitably bring in their train, for after all we live in a world of practical affairs, where something is only given in return for something.

staffs of the China Mail gave a farewell dinner on Saturday night, at the Hongkong Hotel, to Mr Thomas Rutherford, a former colleague, who is leaving this week to take up the position of manager of the Straits Times at Singapore.

presided over by Mr A. Bellamy Brown, managing director and editor, who gave the toast of "Our Guest" in complimentary terms, Mr Rutherford suitably responding.

A number of other toasts were honoured, and altogether a most happy time was spent.

Before the Chief Justice Sir Francis Pigott, at the Criminal Sessions at the Supreme Court, today, Young Kwun Loung alias Young Pak Shun, took his stand in the dock on a charge of embezzling $52,747.71 belonging to the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.
Hon. Sir Henry Berkeley, (K.C., Attorney General, instructed by Mr. H. L. Denney, J., from the office of the Crown Solicitor, prosecuted on behalf of the Crown and Mr. H. H. Calhoun, instructed by Messrs Wilkinson and Grier, defended.

Prisoner made a statement to the effect that the cheque and the money did pass through his hands. He signed the cheque and he admitted he was in fault. He would leave the matter in the hands of His Lordship and he wished to be dealt with as leniently as possible.

Sir Henry Berkeley said that it was a plea of guilty. Continuing Sir Henry Berkeley said that prisoner was one of a large number of shroffs employed by the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation and part of his duties was to receive money from persons who came to the bank to deposit money. On June 3, 1905, the amount was deposited by a Chinese bank on behalf of the Inspector General of Customs. The usual formalities were gone through and the prisoner cashed the cheque which was for $40,000 and put that and the balance in his pocket and walked off with it.

Mr. Calhoun said that prisoner had discovered that a sum of $10,000 was missing. He became frightened and consulted a friend about it who told him that the bank would hold him responsible for the money and the prisoner's story was that this friend had said that he might as well take the lot at the same time offering to assist prisoner which he subsequently did, taking the $40,000 odd and leaving some $2,000 or $3,000 with prisoner. They went to Canton and eventually to the north where they remained several years, after which prisoner came to Shanghai where he was arrested.

Sir Henry Berkeley informed that the maximum penalty was fourteen years and the minimum three years.

His Lordship said he did not think he could impose a less penalty than five years with hard labour.

AT THE THEATRE ROYAL.

On Saturday afternoon a very happy band of youngsters assembled at the Theatre Royal to enjoy the humour of "The New Clown," as played by the Hugh J. Ward London Comedy Company. That the juvenile audience thoroughly enjoyed the spirit of the thing was evinced by the almost continuous roars of laughter which rang through the house whenever Mr. Ward was on the stage. The singing and dancing of Miss Palotta was also a treat which was highly appreciated.

In the evening "The Talk of the Town" was put on. It is a rollicking piece and all the fun possible was exhaled from it by the clever band of players who are now ranged under Mr. Ward's banner.

The various songs by Miss Grace Palotta, Miss Celia Ghilioni, Miss Rose Musgrove and Mr. Wallace were all delightful items in a very delightful evening.

To-night the "Man from Mexico" will be given.

THE ENGINEER'S SMOKE.

Everyone connected with the running of the smoking concert given on Saturday evening at the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders are to be congratulated, for it was completely in every way. The room was tastefully decorated, the entertainment was of the best and everyone regretted that it would probably be the last of the season, the hot weather being now so close at hand. Those who figured on the programme were—Messrs E. B. Ayres, P. H. Chapple, J. D. Auld, J. Cobb, C. C. Hill, W. G. Worcester, F. G. Carroll, J. P. Jordan, L. Croese, R. G. A. Capt. Beasley, R. G. A., F. C. Barlow and G. Grimbly.

THE CINEMATOGRAPHS.

The popularity of the Victoria Cinematograph as one of the best places of entertainment is by no means waning and the spontaneous applause accorded to the splendid pictures testify to the appreciation of the large audiences. The magnificent film "The Catastrophe at Sicily" is indeed well worth a visit while Adon and Thorne continue to please and delight the audience in catchy songs, humorous humors and expert dancing.

The Alexandria.

Since the opening of the Alexandria Cinematograph it has come rapidly into favour with the Hongkong public for the excellence of the pictures shown and the all round high-class programme. The pictures are constantly being changed and every Saturday evening a string band is in attendance. Miss Rose Barnes still appears before delighted audiences and every Saturday there is a children's matinee at 4 p.m.

The Star.

Large audiences attend the Star Cinematograph every evening where up-to-date films are being shown on the screen. The "Rainbow Dance" should not be missed.

The Hongkong.

Yet another good show is that given by the Hongkong Cinematograph. The films are very good.

SPORTING.

Lawn Tennis.

In connection with the Hongkong Cricket Club's lawn tennis tournament a number of interesting matches were played off on Saturday afternoon. These included three semi-finals, which were watched by good crowds.

In the Professional Pairs competition T. E. Pearce and P. H. Kilmanek met Dr. Aubrey and Dr. Grosse. Before the former pair were able to secure entry into the final the full three sets had to be played out but on the last trial the winners romped home with comparative ease. The victory was secured by two sets to one and 15 games to 11. In the opening set Pearce and Kilmanek got the first two games without difficulty, but the opposing pair rallied and through the good service of Grosse and the quick returns of his partner they were able to draw level. Deuce games were the order after this, but Pearce and Kilmanek always managed to pull off the required number of points and were soon score leading by 5 to 2. A game splice finished the set in favour of Pearce and Kilmanek by 6 games to 3.

Although the winners of the initial set secured the two opening games in the next their opponents did not lose heart and by consistent play coupled with an advantage obtained as the result of several bad errors of judgment on the part of Kilmanek, they got ahead. Continuing to bewilder the other men, they made the games 5 to 2, and then Pearce got in several telling smashes and put on a love game. With Aubrey as server the subsequent game went easily in favour of the leaders who turned the tables on the opposing men by winning by precisely the same margin by which they had been previously defeated.

On the opening of the deciding set Pearce took his service, but in the next game Kilmanek out-placed the other pair and was mainly responsible for the love game registered. Two all was later called, but thereforward Pearce and Kilmanek were masters of the situation, and finished 6/2. The rallies throughout the match were short and the play fanciful. The better pair undoubtedly won, a feature of their play being the effective smashes of Pearce.

Another match which aroused a good deal of interest was that between Lieut. Byrne and Lieut. Whyte & J. A. Jupp and D. E. Clark. This was a semi-final in the Doubles Handicap, "A" Class. The handicaps were 30/2 and 4/8 respectively. The match produced some capital play, but, notwithstanding their greater handicap, Byrne and Whyte were always in a commanding position and put out winners by two sets to none and 12 games to 8. The scores were, 6/4, 6/4. For the losers Clark was responsible for some smart rallies, while both the opposing men were clever at the net.

In the Singles Handicap, "A" Class, Capt. Brierly (own 15/3) met and defeated H. J. Makin (scratch) by 7/5, 6/3 and thus won his way into the semi-final of this competition, his next opponent being D. E. Clark, whose handicap is 10/3. To-morrow (Tuesday) Capt. Brierly and Lieut. Byrne meet Capt. Murray and Lieut. Thompson in the Professional Pairs semi-final, while Capt. Brierly will oppose D. E. Clark in the semi-final of the "A" Class Singles Handicap.

Lawn Bowls.

There was a considerable attendance at the opening day of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club on Saturday afternoon and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. A match was played between the President's team and that of the Vice President when the scores were as follows:—

Subsequently Mrs. Milroy presented the prizes won last season and the spoons won by members of the winning rinks in the afternoon matches. Tea was dispensed during the afternoon by Mrs. Wilkie, Mrs. Duncan, and Mrs. Purnhouse, assisted by Miss Butler and the Misses Logan, and Macdonald's band rendered interesting selections of music.
